

A2 word-list

abdere	to hide
absens	absent
abstinere	to keep away from, to abstain accusatio	accusation acerbus	bitter, harsh, severe acuere	to sharpen, to spur on acutus	sharp, pointed, shrill, keen adhibere	to apply, to make use of, to bring in, to summon adimere	to take away
adipisci	to obtain, to get, to reach aditus	approach, entrance, admittance administrare	to manage admirari	to wonder at, to admire, to be surprised at admiratio	admiration, surprise, astonishment admittere	to admit, to allow admonere	to warn, to advise, to remind adoriri	to attack, to address, to rise up adulescentulus	young man adversarius	opposed to, opponent, enemy aeger	sick, ill, troubled aegre	hardly, with difficulty, with regret, with pain aequalis	equal, level, even,
aequare	contemporary to equalise, to make level, to compare, aequitas	calmness, evenness, uniformity, fairness aequor	level surface, plain, sea aer	air
aes alienum	debt
aestimare	to value, to estimate, to assess aevum	age, time, life-time, eternity afficere	to influence, to affect, to work upon, to endow with affirmare	to confirm, to declare affligere	to knock down, to crush, to knock against aggredi	to approach, to attack agitare	to put in motion, to drive, to spur on, to disturb, to consider alacer	lively, brisk, spirited, cheerful albus	white
alere	to feed, to nourish, to rear ambitio	striving for favour, canvassing, ambition, ambitus	bribery, courting favour, a going round, ostentation amentia	madness, folly
amnis	stream, river
amplitudo	width, size, grandeur, importance anceps	twofold, uncertain, doubtful, risky ancora	anchor
angustiae (pl) angustiarum	strait, defile, limit narrow, limited anima	air, wind, breath, life, soul anulus	ring
appetere	to make for, to try to reach, to crave for aptus	fitting, suitable, appropriate aquila	eagle, standard
arare	to plough

arcere	to keep off
arcus	bow, arch
arduus	lofty, steep, difficult, laborious ardere	to burn, to be on fire, to be eager arena	sand, arena, amphitheatre arguere	to declare, to prove, to accuse. aridus	dry, parched
artifex	skilful, ingenious, craftsman, artist artificium	workmanship, work of art, dexterity asper	rough, uneven, harsh, savage aspicere	to look at, to inspect asportare	to carry away assequi	to follow after, to overtake, to gain, to comprehend assiduus	incessant, persistent, continually present, indefatigable at	but
atrium	hall
atrox	horrible, fierce, savage auctor	originator, author, writer, instigator, authority, guarantor aura	breeze, wind
auris	ear
avaritia	greed
avidus	greedy, desirous, eager avertere	to turn aside, to avert, to divert avus	grandfather, ancestor
B
balneum	bath
bellare	to wage war
benevolentia	good-will, kindness
brachium	arm
C
caecus	blind, hidden
calamitas	damage, loss, disaster calamitosus	disastrous, destructive calidus	warm, hot, impetuous, prompt candidus	dazzling white, gleaming, clear, serene, frank, candid canere	to sing, to play an instrument, to predict cantare	to sing, to play capillus	hair
captivus	captive, prisoner carcer	prison
carpere	to pluck, to gather carmen	song, poem, prophecy cavere	to beware, to guard against cavus	hollow
celebrare	to attend, to fill, to go in great numbers, to do frequently, to honour celeber	crowded, frequented, famous certamen	contest, rivalry, combat certare	to decide by contest, to contend, to compete, to vie with cervix	neck
cessare	to be inactive, to be idle cinis	ash
cingere	to surround, to encircle circiter	about, near circumdare	to set round, to encircle, to surround citare	to put into swift motion, to hurry, to excite, to summon citus	swift, rapid, quick citra	on this side, short of citerior	on this side, nearer civilis	civic, civil, courteous, gracious cliens	client

coercere	to enclose, to confine, to restrain coicere, conicere	to throw together, to fling, to conjecture collega	colleague, associate colligere	to pick up, to gather, to collect collum	neck
collocare	to station, to arrange, to establish, to place together color	colour, complexion coma	hair, foliage
commemorare	to mention, to recount, to recall commendare	to entrust, to recommend communicare	to share, to communicate with comperire	to find out, to ascertain, complecti	to embrace, to comprehend componere	to compose, to place together, to settle, to arrange comprehendere	to grasp, to seize, to comprehend, to include concidere (cado)	to fall, to collapse, to perish conciliare	to unite, to win over, to bring together concilium	meeting, assembly, council concitare	to put in quick motion, to stir up, to excite, to urge concursum	running together, assembly, collision, onset, rush, charge condemnare	to condemn condere	to found, to establish, to hide condicio	condition, agreement, arrangement, rank confidere	to have complete trust, to feel confidence confiteri	to admit, to confess confugere	to flee for refuge conquirere	to seek out, to search thoroughly for conscientia	knowledge, consciousness, conscience consciis	sharing in knowledge, partner, accomplice, consecrare	to dedicate, to consecrate consentire	to agree, to conspire conserere (-serui)	to fasten together, to connect conservare	to guard closely, to keep from harm considerare	to sit down, to settle down, to establish oneself conspectus	sight, view conspicere	to catch sight of conspicuum	visible, remarkable, distinguished consuescere	to become accustomed consuetudo	custom, habit consumere	to use up, to consume, to devour contentio	struggle, dispute, exertion, effort contentus	contented, satisfied contingere	to touch, to affect, to happen continuus	unbroken, continuous contio	meeting, speech

contumelia	insult, abuse
conventus	assembly, gathering convertere	to turn completely, to transform convocare	to call together cor	heart, mind
cornu	horn, trumpet, wing of an army corripere	to seize, to snatch up, to carry off quickly corrumpere	to burst, to destroy to ruin, to corrupt cotidianus	daily
crastinus	of tomorrow
creare	to create, to produce, to bear, to elect creber	frequent, crowded crescere	to arise, to increase crus	leg
cubiculum	bedroom
culpa	blame, fault
culpare	to blame
cultus-us	care, worship, dress, education, refinement cupido	desire, lust, longing, cupidus	desirous, eager curia	senate-house
currus	chariot
cursus	rapid movement, course, direction, speed
D
damnare	to harm, to damage, to condemn damnum	loss, damage, defect declarare	to declare, to reveal dedere	to give up, to surrender, to yield deditio	surrender
defensio	defending, defence
defensor	guardian, protector deficere	to fail, to grow weak, to run short delectatio	delight, pleasure, charm deliciae	delights, allurements, pet, favourite deligere	to choose, to gather demens	mindless, insane, mad demere	to take away
demoliri	to pull down, to demolish demum	at last, precisely deserere (-serui)	to abandon, to foresake, designare	to indicate, to point clearly to, to elect, to choose desinere	to cease, to leave off desistere	to come to a standstill, to cease desperare	to despair
despicere	to look down on, to despise deterrere	to deter, to frighten away detrimentum	loss, damage, defeat devorare	to devour, consume, squander differre	to spread, to scatter, to disperse, to publish, to delay, to differ
digitus	finger
diligere	to love, to esteem, to regard above others dimicare	to fight, to struggle dimidium	half

disciplina	learning, discipline, training, custom, knowledge discrimen	crisis, danger, risk, distinction disponere	to arrange, to distribute disputare	to discuss, to examine dissolvere	to break up, to release, to pay distribuere	to distribute diutinus	long-lasting
diversus	separate, different, opposite, opposed dividere	to divide, to distribute dolus	trickery, fraud, guile, stratagem domare	to tame, to subdue domesticus	domestic, of the house donec	until, while, so long as durare	to last, to harden E
edere (edidi)	to produce, to proclaim, to publish, to give birth to efferre	to bring forth, to carry out, to divulge egere	to lack, to need, to be without elephantus	elephant
eludere	to outplay, to outmanoeuvre, to mock, to baffle, to foil epulae	banquet
epulari	to be present at a banquet, to eat equester	of a horseman, of cavalry, of the equestrian rank ergo	therefore
erigere	to raise up, to encourage, to excite eruditus	learned, educated, trained erumpere	to burst out, to sally forth eruptio	bursting forth, sally evenire	to come out, to happen, to turn out eventus	result, event, accident, occurrence, issue, fortune excelsus	lofty, high, elevated excipere	to receive, to welcome, to catch, to intercept excutere	to shake out, to shake off, to get rid of, to banish exemplum	example, warning exercere	to train, to exercise exhaurire	to use up, to drain dry, to exhaust exiguus	small, meagre, scanty exilium, exsilium	exile, banishment existimatio	opinion, reputation exitus	departure, end, conclusion, result expedire	to free, to disentangle, to clear experiri	to try, to test explere	to fill, to complete exponere	to set forth, to display expugnare	to storm, to take by force exsequi	to follow up existere	to exist, to appear extinguere	to put out, to destroy F
fabula	story, play
facies	shape, appearance, face, character factum	deed

fallax	deceitful, treacherous, deceptive fallere	to deceive, to trick, to disappoint falsus	wrong, mistaken, fictitious fames	hunger
fas	divine law, right
fateri	to admit, to reveal fatigare	to weary, to exhaust favere	to favour, to support fax	torch
fera	wild beast
ferus	wild, savage, uncivilised festus	festal
figere	to fix, to fasten
figura	shape, form
ingere	to shape, to form firmare	to strengthen, to confirm, to encourage firmus	firm, powerful, strong flagitare	to demand
flamma	flame, fire
flectere	to turn, to direct, to bend flere	to weep, to lament florere	to flower, to be prosperous, to be eminent, to be in one's heyday
flos	flower, bloom, glory
fluctus	wave
fluere	to flow
fluvius	river, stream
foedus-a-um	foul, horrible, disgusting fons	spring, fountain, source foris	out of doors, abroad forma	form, shape, beauty formosus	beautiful, handsome forsitan	perhaps
fraus	trickery, fraud, harm fremitus	roaring, din
frena	reins, bridle, restraint frequens	frequent, repeated, crowded fretum	straits
fretus	relying on
frigidus	cold
frigus	cold, coolness
frui	to enjoy, to delight in fundere	to pour
fungi	to perform
funus	burial, funeral, death furtum	theft, robbery
furor	fury, madness
G
gemma	jewel, gem
gemere	to groan, to sigh gemitus	groan, sigh
gens	race, people, clan
genus	kind, family, race, birth

gladiator	gladiator
gloriari	to boast
gracilis	slender, meagre, scanty, slim, simple, plain, unadorned gradus	step, pace
grandis	tall, grown-up, large, important, grand gratiosus	popular
gratulatio	rejoicing, congratulation gravitas	weight, influence, seriousness, dignity, importance, severity grex	flock, herd, troop gubernare	to steer, to navigate H
haerere	to stick, to cling, to hold fast, to be fixed hasta	spear, javelin
hereditas	inheritance
heres	heir, heiress
hesternus	of yesterday hodiernus	of today, modern horrendus	dreadful, terrible, awesome horrere	to shudder, to shrink from, to bristle horridus	frightening, rough, uncouth, wild, bristling hostia	sacrificial victim humilis	humble, low, mean I
ideo	for that reason, on that account, therefore idoneus	suitable
ignarus	ignorant, unacquainted with, unaware ignotus	unknown, obscure illustis	famous, distinguished, clear, plain imber	rain
imitari	to imitate, to copy immanis	enormous, monstrous imminere	to threaten, to hang over impedimentum	hindrance, baggage impellere	to set in motion, to urge on, to push imperitus	inexperienced, unskilled impetrare	to obtain, to accomplish impiger	active, energetic impius	undutiful, impious, disloyal, unpatriotic imponere	to place upon improbis	bad, perverse, shameless improvisus	unforeseen, unexpected inanis	empty, worthless, poor incertus	uncertain, doubtful incidere (caedo)	to cut into, to inscribe incitare	to rouse, to stir up, to urge forward incola	inhabitant
incolere	to inhabit
incolumis	unharmed, safe
incommodum	inconvenience, trouble, disadvantage, disaster indicere	to proclaim, to announce indiciu	evidence, proof, indication indignus	unworthy, undeserving induere	to put on, to assume industria	diligence, hard work inferior	lower, inferior, later infra	below

infimus	lowest
infestus	hostile, threatening, unsafe infirmus	weak, feeble, worthless ingratus	ungrateful, unwelcome, unpleasant inire	to enter, to begin innocens	innocent, blameless, harmless inopinatus	unexpected inscius	not knowing, ignorant, unaware insequi	to follow, to pursue, to reproach, to assail insidiae	ambush, plot, artifice insignis	distinguished, conspicuous instare	to press hard upon, to be at hand institutum	regulation, arrangement, agreement, established customs instruere	to draw up, to equip, to furnish integer	entire, unharmed, intact, blameless, honest intendere	to stretch, to strain, to aim at, to direct interdum	occasionally
interior	inner, deeper, interior, more hidden intimus	inmost, innermost, most secret, most intimate interire	to pass away, to perish intueri	to gaze upon, to consider invidere	to envy, to begrudge iugum	yoke, ridge
iumentum	beast of burden
iungere	to join, to unite, to yoke iurare	to swear
iuvare	to help, to delight, to please iuventus	youth
L
laccessere	to provoke, to challenge lacus	lake
laedere	to hurt, to harm laetari	to rejoice
languidus	faint, weak, listless lapis	stone
largitio	generosity, bribery, corruption lassus	tired, exhausted latebrae	hiding-place
latere	to lie hidden
lenis	smooth, soft, mild, gentle, moderate lentus	slow, sluggish, tenacious, liberalitas	kindness, generosity, courteousness liberi	children
lignum	wood
littera	letter
litus-oris	shore
locare	to place, to put locuples	rich, wealthy longinquus	far off, remote, long-lasting lucere	to shine, to be light lucidus	clear, bright, shining lumen	light, daylight

luxuria	excess, extravagance
M
maestus	sad, sorrowful magnificus	splendid, grand maritimus	maritime, seafaring, of the sea maritus	husband
marmor	marble
materia	matter, theme, subject maturare	to ripen, to hasten maturus	ripe, mature, seasonable, early, quick medicus	doctor, medical mediocris	moderate, ordinary, average mentiri	to lie
merces	pay, recompense, reward mereri	to deserve, to acquire, to earn meritum	service, kindness, benefit merito	deservedly
meridies	mid-day, south militia	military service, warfare, minae	threats, menaces
minari	to threaten, to menace minuere	to lessen, to reduce, to weaken, to modify mirificus	wonderful, extraordinary miscere	to mix, to mingle miser cordia	pity, compassion, mercy modestus	moderate, restrained, well-behaved, modest modicus	moderate, ordinary,
moles	huge mass, massive structure, pier, burden, difficulty molestia	trouble, annoyance, worry molestus	troublesome, annoying, burdensome moliri	to exert oneself, to make an effort mollis	soft, flexible, calm, gentle, sensitive monstrare	to show, to point out mora	delay, hindrance
morari	to delay, to linger, to stay mordere	to bite
motus	motion, impulse, commotion, rebellion mundus-i	world, earth, universe munire	to fortify, to defend N
nancisci	to obtain, to find nefarius	wrong, sinful, unspeakable nefas	sin, crime against divine law, wickedness nefandus	wrong, sinful, unspeakable nemus	grove
nepos	grandson, nephew
nequire	to be unable neuter	neither of two niger	black, dark
nimbus	cloud, storm-cloud, storm nitere	to shine

nix	snow
nocere	to harm, to hurt, to injure nubes	cloud
nubere	to marry
nudare	to bare, to expose, to uncover nudus	bare, naked, destitute, needy, unadorned numen	divine power, deity, divine will, consent numerare	to count, to reckon, to consider nummus	coin, money
O
obicere	to throw, to cast in one's teeth obire	to meet, to go to meet, to die, to perish oblivisci	to forget
obruere	to overwhelm, to destroy obscurus	dark, gloomy, obscure, covered obsidere	to blockade, to besiege obstruere	to block up
occultare	to hide, to conceal occurrere	to hasten to, to meet, to occur odiosus	hateful, odious, annoying offendere	to offend, to strike against offerre	to present, to show, to offer omen	omen, sign
onerarius	for carrying freight, for carrying burdens onerosus	burdensome, heavy, oppressive operire	to cover, to conceal, to overwhelm opinari	to suppose, to imagine, to conjecture opportunus	convenient, suitable, advantageous ops	power, help
opes (pl)	resources, wealth optare	to choose, to desire, to wish for ora	border, edge, coast, district, region oriens	east, morning
oriri	to rise
os, ossis	bone
ovis	sheep
P
pabulari	to forage
pabulum	fodder, food
pacare	to pacify
pactum	agreement, contract pagus	village, country-district palus-udis	marsh, swamp panis	bread
pariter	equally, simultaneously parere (pario)	to produce, to bring forth, to bear, to create partim	partly, in part
passim	here and there, in all directions, indiscriminately passus	step, pace
paternus	paternal, of a father patrius	hereditary patres conscripti	senators patronus	defender, advocate, protector, patron pavere	to quake, to tremble, to be in a panic pavor	panic, terror, quaking, dismay pecus, pecoris	herd, flock, cattle, sheep pendere (2)	to hang, to be suspended, to depend on perferre	to endure to the end, to carry through, to carry to a successful issue

pergere	to go straight on, to continue, to proceed peritus	experienced, skilled permanere	to continue, to stay, to endure permittere	to allow, to concede, to relinquish perniciēs	destruction, ruin perpetuus	perpetual, unbroken, continuous persequi	to follow through, to pursue to prosecute perspicere	to look closely at, to examine, to see through pertimescere	to become very frightened perturbare	to throw into confusion, pestis	destruction, ruin, plague, sickness philosophus	philosopher, philosophical pietas	piety, dutiful conduct pius	pious, dutiful, righteous, holy, upright piger	unwilling, lingering, sluggish pilum	javelin
pingere	to paint, to decorate, to embroider piscis	fish
placare	to calm, to appease placidus	calm, tranquil, gentle planus	level, flat / plain, clear plerusque	most
pluit	it rains
poculum	cup, goblet
pondus	weight
pons	bridge
pontifex	high-priest
pontus	sea
populari	to lay waste, to devastate, to destroy porro	moreover, next
porticus	colonnade, portico possidere	to possess posterior	next, later potens	powerful, capable potentia	force, power, strength potiri	to gain possession of potissimum	especially potius	more, rather
praeberē	to present, to offer, to show praeceptum	rule, maxim, injunction praecipere	to direct, to teach, to warn, to anticipate, to seize beforehand
praecipitare	to throw headlong, to fall headlong praecipuus	especial, extraordinary, distinguished praedicare	to proclaim, to declare, to commend, to vaunt praeesse	to be in charge of praefectus	commander, officer, prefect praesertim	especially praestans	eminent, surpassing, extraordinary praetura	praetorship

principatus	first place, chief place, post of commander-in-chief, reign (of emperor), rule principium	beginning, origin principia (pl)	headquarters privatim	privately, at home probrum	abuse, invective, shameful action probus	proper, excellent, virtuous procedere	to advance
prodesse	to be useful, to do good profiteri	to declare, to acknowledge promere	to bring forth, to disclose promptus	ready, prompt, resolute properare	to hurry
proprius	one's own, personal prosperus	favourable
prospicere	to look forwards, to look out for protinus	continuously, forthwith providere	to foresee prudens	sensible, prudent, experienced prudentia	good sense, sound judgement, knowledge pulvis	dust
purus	clean, clear, pure Q
quaestio	inquiry, investigation, court queri	to complain, to bewail quiescere	to rest, to sleep quietus	peaceful, calm
R
ramus	branch
rapax	grasping, greedy
rapidus	impetuous, snatching, seizing, quick-working rarus	thin, rare, infrequent ratīs	raft, boat
recedere	to withdraw, to retreat, to retire recitare	to read aloud recuperare	to recover, to regain recusare	to refuse
reficere	to restore, to repair, to refresh regio	region, district regius	royal
reicere	to fling back, to fling off, to reject religiosus	pious, scrupulous, conscientious removere	to move back, to withdraw remus	oar
renovare	to renew, to restore, to repair repente	suddenly, unexpectedly repentinus	sudden, unexpected, hasty repudiare	to reject, to repudiate, to refuse, to scorn requies	rest, relaxation

requirere	to seek, to inquire after, to require rerī	to think, to reckon res familiaris	property, possessions reservare	to reserve, to keep back resistere	to resist, to come to a halt respicere	to look back at, to be mindful of responsum	answer, reply restituere	to restore
robur	oak, strength, vigour, the pick rogatio	proposed law
rota	wheel
ruber	red
rudis	coarse, unpolished, unskilled, awkward ruere	to rush, to fall down rumor	rumour, general opinion rumpere	to burst, to break, to burst open rursus	again
S
saeculum	generation, age
saevire	to be fierce, to be angry sagitta	arrow
saltare	to dance
saltus	leap, pasture-land salvere	to be well
salvus	safe
salutare	to greet
sanare	to heal, to cure sanus	healthy, whole, sane, sound sanctus	holy, sacred, virtuous satietas	sufficiency, abundance satisfacere	to satisfy sceleratus	wicked, criminal scutum	shield
secare	to cut
secundus	second, following, favourable securus	untroubled, free from care, secure sedes	home, seat
seges	corn, crop
segnis	sluggish, inactive, lingering, slow senior	elder
sensus	sensation, feeling, understanding, judgement, meaning servire	to serve
servitus	slavery
severus	serious, strict, severe, grim siccus	dry
sidus	constellation, star significare	to indicate, to mean, to signify silere	to be silent, to rest simulare	to pretend, to imitate sinere	to allow singularis	alone, single singuli	one each
sinus	lap, fold, curve, bay

societas	alliance
sodalis	comrade
sol	sun
sollicitare	to rouse, to excite, to disturb sollicitudo	anxiety, disquiet solum	ground, floor, soil somnus	sleep
somnium	dream
sonare	to make a noise, to resound sonus	sound, noise
sonitus	sound, noise, din sopor	sleep, stupor
sordidus	dirty, shabby, base, vile sors	lot, chance, fate, destiny, prophecy spatium	space, expanse, distance, interval, opportunity species	sight, appearance, likeness, idea spernere	to reject, to scorn spiritus	spirit, life, inspiration, breath statio	post, station
statua	statue, image
status	position, situation stipendium	pay, tax, military service studere	to be eager, to apply oneself, to study, to be devoted to studiosus	keen, eager, devoted, enthusiastic, studious stultitia	foolishness, folly stuprum	disgrace, dishonour subicere	to subject, to suggest subigere	to tame, to conquer, to subjugate, to force subsidium	support, aid
succedere	to come after, to follow in succession, to approach succurrere	to help
sufferre	to bear up, to support sumptus	expense, cost
superbia	arrogance
superbus	arrogant, overbearing, haughty superesse	to remain, to survive superstes	surviving
superior	higher, former, older, greater, superior supra	above, beyond
supremus	highest, latest, final supplex	suppliant, in humble entreaty supplicare	to entreat, to beg humbly suspicari	to suspect, to mistrust suspicere	to suspect, to mistrust, to look up at suspicio	suspicion, mistrust T
taedium	weariness, boredom tangere	to touch
tardus	slow, sluggish, deliberate tectum	roof, house
tegere	to cover
tellus	earth, land
temere	rashly, heedlessly, at random

temperantia	moderation, self-control temperare	to govern, to regulate, to show restraint tendere	to stretch, to hold out, to strain, to aim for, to direct one's course
tenebrae	darkness, gloomy place tener	tender, delicate, soft, yielding tentare	to try, to test, to assail tenuis	thin, fine, delicate tergum	back, rear
terror	terror, dread
theatrum	theatre
tolerare	to bear, to put up with, to endure tormentum	torture
tractare	to handle, to treat, to manage traducere	to lead across, to transfer transitus-us	crossing over, passage trepidare	to be agitated, to quiver tribuere	to assign, to classify, to allot, to grant tribunus	tribune, officer
tribus	tribe
triumphus	triumph
turba	crowd, throng, disorder
turris	tower
U
ulcisci	to punish, to take vengeance on, to avenge ultimus	farthest, extreme, remotest, final, latest ultra	beyond, farther, besides ultra	beyond, besides, of one's own accord umbra	shadow, shade, ghost umbrosus	shady
umerus	shoulder
una cum	together with
unda	wave, water
urgere	to press on, to push forward, to crowd urere	to burn
usque	continuously
V
vacare	to be empty, to be free vacuus	empty
vadum	shallow, shoal
vagari	to wander, to roam valde	greatly, very vallis	valley, vale
vallum	rampart
vanus	empty, idle, useless
varietas	difference, diversity vastare	to lay waste
vastus	vast, immense, empty, desolate, uncouth vates	soothsayer, bard, poet vehere	to carry, to convey venenum	poison
venerari	to revere, to worship venia	grace, pardon, favour

ver	spring
versus-us	verse
vesper	evening, evening-star vestire	to dress, to clothe vestis	clothing, coverlet vetare	to forbid
vexare	to annoy
vicinus	neighbour, neighbouring victus-us	food, nourishment, way of life vicus	village, street
vigilare	to keep awake, to watch, to be vigilant vigilia	watch, wakefulness vincire	to bind, to restrain, to encircle vindicare	to punish, to avenge, to make a claim upon, to set free, lay claim to
vinea	vineyard, mantlet
vires	strength, force
virgo	maiden, girl
viridis	green
visere	to visit, to go to see, to view, volvere	to roll, to turn over, to revolve votum	vow, prayer
vulgo	publicly, generally vulgus	common people, multitude, throng, rabble vultus	face, expression, appearance